DEAR FRIENDS OF THE PORT,

Today, we are witnessing a remarkable transformation in the economic landscape of the state of Texas and we're honored that the Port of Brownsville is at the center of such developments. With several multi-billion-dollar projects currently under way, and several more on the horizon, there has never been a better time to do business at the port that works.

Over the last year, activity at the port has fortified our future. For the first time in our 88-year history operating revenues surpassed the $40 million threshold, reaching over $41 million in FY2023. As various projects and private investments move forward, the port continues to thrive and diversify its business portfolio.

The Brazos Island Harbor Channel Improvement Project to deepen the ship channel from 42 feet to 52 feet is underway, providing significant navigational safety improvements for commercial shipping in South Texas.

The port's 118-acre business park continues to attract interest and investments from companies seeking to leverage the port's logistical network and strategic location for a global advantage. This endeavor, led by the Brownsville Navigation District (BND) Board of Commissioners, exemplifies our commitment to infrastructure investments that strengthen the port and deliver results.

For the twelfth consecutive year, the BND has received the highest recognition for governmental accounting and financial reporting for its 2022 annual comprehensive financial report. We continue protecting the interest of our constituents, making prudent decisions while displaying the highest financial standards in accuracy, clarity and transparency.

We are proud to carry on this legacy of fiscal responsibility as we continue to lead the maritime industry in the Rio Grande Valley. With a track record like this, the Port of Brownsville is set to continue bringing sustained prosperity to the region.

DEAR READERS,

As the Port Director and CEO of the Port of Brownsville, I am honored to share the exciting progress happening at our port. Leading the Rio Grande Valley's economy, the port remains committed to expanding its diverse industries through quality services and thoughtful planning. With complete confidence, I can guarantee the best is yet to come.

The Port of Brownsville is positioned to grow its significance in Texas, Northern Mexico, and beyond with its infrastructure expansions to enhance cargo handling capabilities, business development opportunities and increasing cargo volumes.

In 2023, the port's total cargo tonnage rose to 17.8 million tons, a 17% increase from 2022. Operations at the port are steadily mounting, with annual cargo tonnage consistently growing.

As a vital hub for key commodities such as steel, liquid bulk products, wind energy components, aggregates, among others, the port recorded an increase in vessel activity throughout 2023, with 2,561 vessel calls, a 46% rise from the previous year's total of 1,754. This contributed to the port reaching 50th position among 150 maritime ports in the nation for waterborne cargo, as reported by the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers. Our estimations show that the Port of Brownsville will continue rising through that list in years to come.

Building upon the successes of this year, the port's future is brighter than ever. I look forward to sharing these achievements alongside our community and stakeholders as we move into a new age of economic prosperity. Thank you for your support.

THE PORT OF BROWNSVILLE LEADS THE RIO GRANDE VALLEY'S ECONOMY

The future of the Rio Grande Valley's economy is anchored at the Port of Brownsville. As the only deepwater seaport located on the U.S.-Mexico border, the port's influence extends beyond Texas.

The U.S. Army Corps of Engineers Annual Report features the port's ascension to 50th position among 150 U.S. maritime ports for waterborne cargo. In 2022, the port handled 9.1 million tons of cargo, up from 8.9 million tons in 2021, moving from 55th to 50th place.

The port's comprehensive logistical network comprised of rail, trucking lines, vessel and barge services and pipeline connectivity are key to the successful transportation of goods as the port accommodates a variety of industries.

In 2023, total cargo tonnage at the port increased 17% to 17.8 million tons, with 12.3 million tons of waterborne and 5.5 million tons of non-waterborne cargo. The increased cargo activity has resulted in increased operating revenues as well. For the fourth consecutive year, the operating revenues at the port surpassed the $30 million mark, exceeding $41 million in 2023.

Prudent financial management, guided by the strategic and thoughtful planning of the Brownsville Navigation District (BND) Board of Commissioners, safeguards the interests of port tenants, users, constituents, and assets. The five-member elected commission is chartered by the State of Texas and charged with setting port policy and approving major expenditures.

Steel is among the top commodities transported via the Port of Brownsville's efficient and comprehensive logistical network supporting global trade.

Deepening the 17-mile-long Brazos Island Harbor Channel from 42 feet to 52 feet will enhance the channel's navigability and safety while providing a competitive advantage to port customers.

BND Commission members are elected to four-year staggered terms and meet twice monthly, governing the activities of the port. The BND Commission is comprised of Chairman Esteban Guerra, Vice Chairman Sergio Tito Lopez, Secretary John Reed and Assistant Secretaries John Wood and Ernesto Gutierrez. The port's administration is led by Port Director and CEO William Dietrich and Deputy Port Director of Operations Arturo Gomez.

The BND's latest infrastructure investment, its 118-acre business park, is designed to accommodate industrial and manufacturing companies complementing the expansions of existing and future port tenants and customers. In April, the port held a groundbreaking ceremony for the business park's first tenant, Westa Inc. The agricultural company will invest over $30 million to establish a state-of-the-art wheat flour mill and wheat storage silos at the Port of Brownsville. Once operational, the facility will employ 120 people.

The Brazos Island Harbor (BIH) Channel Improvement Project is a key component of ongoing infrastructure upgrades at the port, aimed at deepening the 17-mile-long ship channel from 42 feet to 52 feet. This increased depth will enhance navigability, ensure safer ship passage, and reduce transit times, significantly boosting the port's competitiveness and attracting more investments.

The BIH project, divided into two phases, is funded through a Public-Private Partnership (P3) involving the U.S. Army Corps of Engineers (USACE), the Port of Brownsville, and NextDecade Corporation. In 2019, NextDecade announced a landmark agreement with the BND to fully fund Phase 1, which includes deepening the channel from the western boundary of its lease site to the channel entrance and developing two ship berths and a turning basin for the Rio Grande LNG facility. Phase 2, to be executed by the Port of Brownsville and the USACE, will deepen the channel from the turning basin area to Rio Grande LNG's site. In March 2022, the federal government allocated $68 million for Phase 2 under the Infrastructure Investment and Jobs Act Appropriations Law. In August, the USACE awarded a $104 million contract to Callan Marine Ltd. for Phase 2 of the BIH project. Work is set to start in Fall 2024 and is expected to be completed by Summer 2026.

The deepening of the Brownsville Ship Channel is a monumental project that will set the Port of Brownsville on a strong path for the future. This investment ensures that the port remains a critical player in the global supply chain, supporting sustainable growth for diverse industries.

WORKING TOWARD A BRIGHTER FUTURE

Efficient operations at the Port of Brownsville are strengthened by its workforce. The Port of Brownsville is proud to support education initiatives and training opportunities to ensure the development of crucial skillsets for its workforce.

In April, the BND joined Texas Governor Greg Abbott and Texas A&M University System leaders for a groundbreaking ceremony for a new 30,000-square-foot advanced manufacturing training facility at the Port of Brownsville. The center will offer programs provided by the Texas A&M Engineering Extension Service (TEEX).

The new $30 million facility at the Texas A&M Rio Grande Valley Advanced Manufacturing Innovation Hub (RAMI) at the port is set for completion in mid-2026. Established in 2021 with Texas State Legislature funding, the RAMI hub aims to boost advanced manufacturing skills in the Rio Grande Valley, preparing residents for technical careers and stimulating the local economy.

The Port of Brownsville is solidifying its role as an essential player in Texas' energy landscape with the construction of NextDecade's Rio Grande LNG facility. At full development, Rio Grande LNG will be the largest privately funded project in Texas and will have the capability to deliver enough energy to heat and cool the equivalent of nearly 34 million U.S. households annually.

The project aligns with the port's objectives of economic development and job generation, projecting to create over 5,000 local construction jobs during peak construction. Bechtel Energy Inc., the construction company contracted to build the Rio Grande LNG facility, is on schedule to complete Phase 1 of the project, which includes 3 liquefaction trains, 2 storage tanks, 2 loading jetties, among other infrastructure. As of June, the company reports a 24 percent overall project completion for Trains 1 and 2, while Train 3 overall project completion is 7.8 percent.

On the horizon is Glenfarne's Texas LNG project, a 4 mtpa LNG export terminal to be constructed in the Port of Brownsville. The company has announced important offtake agreements and projects to make a final investment decision and begin construction in 2024.

The Port of Brownsville remains a leader in the movement of wind energy components, thanks to its logistical capabilities and strategic location along the U.S.-Mexico border.

The port excels in supporting the wind energy sector by handling oversized components like the largest windmill blades imported into the U.S. Its specialized equipment and skilled workforce manage these components efficiently for transport by vessel, barge, rail, and truck. This capability positions the Port of Brownsville as a leader in servicing the renewable energy industry and facilitates the flow of cargo and other goods related to the space industry from port docks to SpaceX's neighboring facility Starbase.

To accommodate the increasing cargo loads, the Port of Brownsville has expanded its patio and laydown areas to safely store project cargo and wind energy components.

The Port of Brownsville is a leader in the movement of massive wind energy components, leveraging its strategic U.S.-Mexico border location and robust logistics.

BUSINESS BLOOMS AT THE PORT OF BROWNSVILLE

In alignment with the Port of Brownsville's mission to provide the highest quality of infrastructure for its tenants and customers to succeed, the port has added a 118-acre business park to its expansive portfolio.

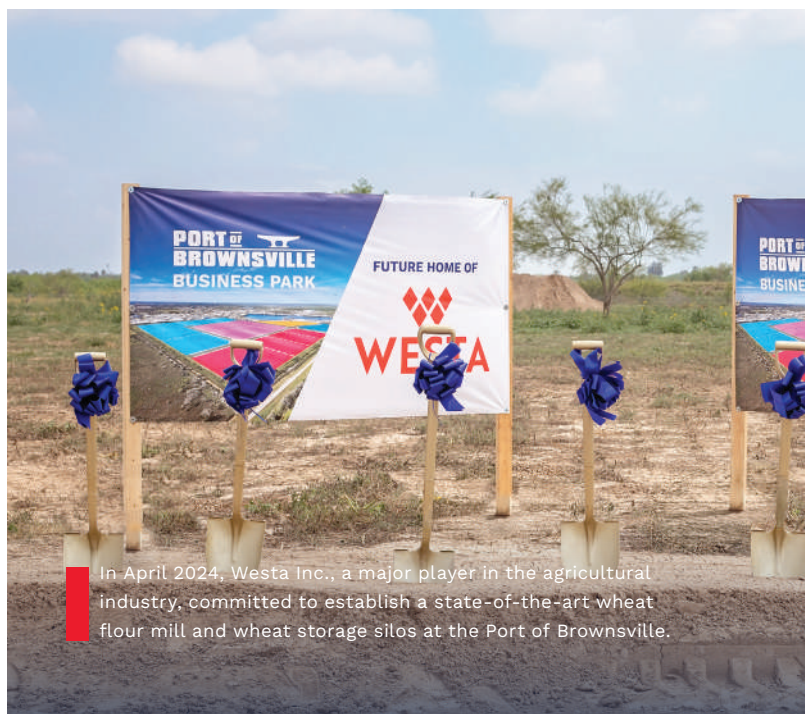

The Brownsville Navigation District (BND) Board of Commissioners held a groundbreaking ceremony for the project in June 2023. Hard at work, port staff from the Engineering and Facilities Maintenance departments have completed several construction milestones in-house for the 118-acre business park, including leveling the site and installing water/sewage pipes and fire hydrants. The business park is set for completion in Fall 2024.

The Port of Brownsville Business Park offers prime industrial real estate opportunities for businesses looking to capitalize on the port's strategic location and logistical infrastructure. With direct access to major transportation networks and proximity to international markets, the business park is poised to become a premier destination for companies seeking to expand their operations and enhance their global competitiveness.

The development is strategically designed to enhance global supply chains. It offers 17 fully serviced lots with utilities, a foreign trade zone, and direct access to the USMCA corridor. With connections to three Class 1 railroads, 24/7 secured facilities, and access to the port's overweight corridor, the park is perfectly suited for light to medium manufacturing operations across a variety of industries. Located at the port's turning basin, it facilitates direct connections to ocean-going vessels and an extensive barge system, providing a unique cost-saving advantage not found

The Port of Brownsville Business Park offers 17 fully equipped lots with utilities, a foreign trade zone and is ideal for light to medium manufacturing across diverse industries.

In April 2024, Westa Inc., a major player in the agricultural industry, committed to establish a state-of-the-art wheat flour mill and wheat storage silos at the Port of Brownsville.

In April, the port announced the business park's first tenant, Westa Inc., a significant player in the agricultural industry. Westa Inc. plans to invest $30 million to establish a state-of-the-art wheat flour mill and storage silos. Once operational, the facility is expected to employ 120 people.

Built for growing business, the Port of Brownsville and its business park are poised for peak performance in the years ahead. As industries evolve and global trade patterns shift, the port stands ready to adapt, ensuring it remains a driving force in the Texas economy.

A CRUCIAL GATEWAY FOR U.S.-MEXICO TRADE AND NEARSHORING

The Port of Brownsville serves as a vital multimodal logistics hub for cross-border trade, leveraging its strategic location as the only deepwater seaport on the U.S.-Mexico border. It is a prominent shipper of steel, refined petroleum products, grain, aggregates, among other products supporting diverse industries located in 12 Mexican states.

The proximity to key markets allows the port to efficiently deliver goods and commodities to multinational manufacturing centers on both sides of the border, solidifying its role as a critical transshipment gateway. This helps the port stand out as the ideal location for nearshoring ventures, enabling companies to bring their manufacturing and logistics operations and close gaps in the supply chain.

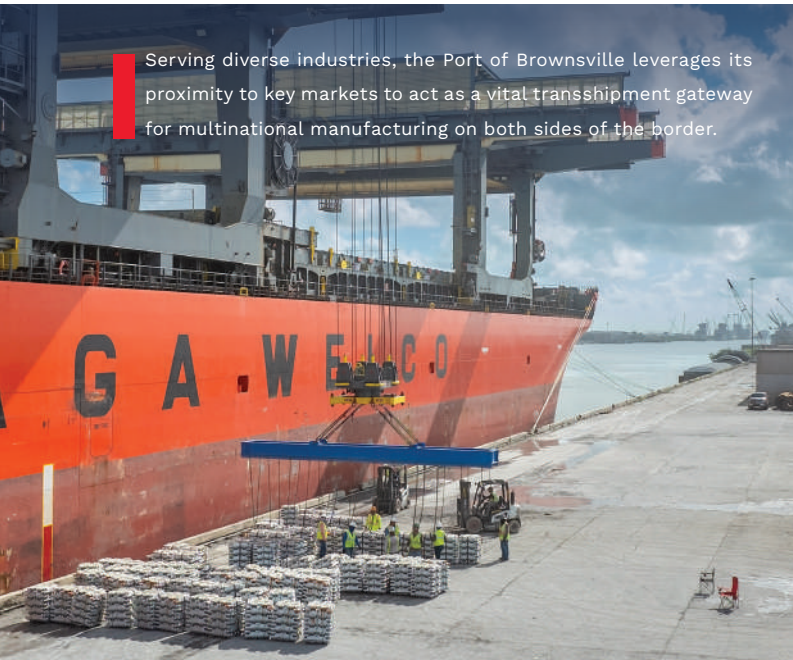

Unmatched logistics including direct connectivity to USMCA interstate corridors, its closeness to border crossings—seven miles by truck and 13 miles by rail — make the port a preferred route for steel manufacturers. This logistical advantage has catapulted the Port of Brownsville as the major gateway for steel into Mexico, moving a record 5.5 million tons of steel commodities in 2023.

The rise in steel throughput is connected to the development and expansion of Ternium's industrial center located in Pesquería, right outside the Monterrey metropolitan area. The company is utilizing the Port of Brownsville for receiving, staging, and shipping all the steel slab processed at its plant,

The Port of Brownsville established Texas' first overweight corridor, allowing trucks to carry up to 125,000 pounds—45,000 pounds more than the U.S. limit —saving time and money for commercial carriers.

Serving diverse industries, the Port of Brownsville leverages its proximity to key markets to act as a vital transshipment gateway for multinational manufacturing on both sides of the border.

one of the most modern industrial complexes in the world that supports the automotive, construction and white appliances industries in Mexico. Port stevedore Gulf Stream Marine, the Brownsville Rio Grande International Railway (BRG), OmniTRAX, and CPKC work in tandem to expedite steel slab shipments via rail from the port to Ternium's mill in Pesquería. Ternium is also constructing a marine terminal at the Port of Brownsville that will support its state-of-the-art facility in Mexico.

The port is a major transshipment hub for liquid products such as premium gasoline, diesel, jet fuels, and lubricants, which are then distributed to South Texas and Mexico. As demand for refined products continues to grow, the port's capacity to handle large volumes offers customers valuable access to Mexico's interior—a crucial advantage in a competitive market. In 2023, over 2.5 million tons of liquid commodities were exported to Mexico via pipeline from the port's terminals. Additionally, storage tank farms for refined petroleum at the Port of Brownsville are expanding, with a current capacity of 8 million barrels and more under construction.

The Port of Brownsville holds the distinction of establishing Texas' first overweight corridor. Trucks crossing the border via the designated route to or from the port can carry loads up to Mexico's legal weight limit of 125,000 pounds—45,000 pounds more than the U.S. domestic limit. This capability results in significant savings in time, money, and logistical efficiency.

The port's skilled workforce efficiently handles a range of cargo, including steel, aluminum, petroleum, wind energy components, and various bulk materials like grains and cement.

LEGACY INDUSTRIES TRANSFORM THE PAST AND FORGE THE PRESENT

A beacon of possibilities along the Gulf Coast, the Port of Brownsville is renowned for its industrial capabilities and economic significance. Among its many attributes, one particularly distinguishes this port from others in the state: it is the only deepwater seaport in Texas home to thriving shipbuilding and ship recycling industries.

These unique capabilities have cemented the Port of Brownsville's status as a critical player in the maritime sector and a catalyst for regional and national economic growth.

Seatrium AmFELS, the port's largest employer and the foremost U.S. offshore rig builder, pivoted from the oil and gas industry into Jones Act shipbuilding, making big waves in the industry after landing contracts to build containerships.

In July 2023, the MV Janet Marie, a 774-foot LNG-powered container ship and the second of the 'Ohana Class series, was delivered by AmFELS. This new addition joins Pasha Hawaii's fleet operating in the Hawaii/Mainland trade route, alongside the MV George III, the first 'Ohana Class vessel that started its service on August 17, 2022.

In April 2024, the company reached a major milestone with the construction of the Charybdis, the first Jones Act-compliant offshore wind turbine installation vessel for U.S. Atlantic Coast projects. At 472 feet long, 184 feet wide, and 38 feet deep, this vessel, owned by Dominion Energy was successfully launched from land to water, marking a pivotal moment in the vessel's construction. Additionally, AmFELS is building the Frederick Paup, the largest high-specification Trailing Suction Hopper Dredge in the U.S., for Manson Construction Co. This marks the first dredge constructed at AmFELS' yard, further expanding shipbuilding opportunities and job growth in South Texas.

The Port of Brownsville is also renowned as the premier ship recycling port in the nation, with its three major facilities—All Star Metals, International Shipbreaking Ltd. (ISL), and SteelCoast Company — handling over 85 percent of the nation's ship recycling. These facilities process U.S. Navy, MARAD, and commercial ships at the end of their service life, securing significant recycling contracts from both government and private entities. ISL is also the first and only site in the U.S. to receive European Union accreditation for ship recycling. In 2021, the company, a part of global leader EMR Metal Recycling, secured EU Ship Recycling Regulation accreditation after investing $30 million in compliant infrastructure at its facility.

The port is also a notable site for recycling retired U.S. Navy aircraft carriers. In May 2022, the USS Kitty Hawk arrived for recycling, becoming the sixth U.S. Navy aircraft carrier processed at the port. ISL, having previously recycled the USS Constellation, USS Ranger, and USS Independence, won the contract to dismantle the 60,000-ton Kitty Hawk. ISL is currently awaiting the arrival of the USS John F. Kennedy for recycling. The process includes safety and environmental assessments, cleaning, waste disposal, structural dismantling, demilitarization, and metal processing.

On June 30, 2023, the U.S. Navy named the Port of Brownsville as one of three potential locations for recycling the USS Enterprise, the world's first nuclear-powered aircraft carrier. The ship was decommissioned in 2017, and the Navy is currently evaluating the final recycling location.

Aside from supporting hundreds of good-paying jobs across the Rio Grande Valley, the ship recycling industry at the Port of Brownsville has a profound environmental impact by reducing the resources needed to produce products from metal scrap compared to ore. It also lowers air and water pollution and conserves water.

The ship recycling industry provides well-paying jobs across the Rio Grande Valley with employment opportunities expanding as new projects continue to arrive at the port.

PORT OF BROWNSVILLE: A TRADITION OF TRANSFORMATION

Since 1936, the port has evolved into a key hub for intermodal transportation and industrial development, shifting from handling cotton and grains to steel, aluminum, minerals, and windmill components.

First opened in May 1936, the Port of Brownsville has served as the regional maritime port for the Rio Grande Valley and northern Mexico. Known as the “Father of the Port of Brownsville”, Commodore Louis Cobolini championed the establishment of a deepwater seaport on the U.S.-Mexico border and the economic opportunities it would bring.

Navigating the changing waters of the economy for 88 years, the port has attracted and sustained various industries to provide good-paying jobs to its communities creating a bustling hub of international commerce. Early on agricultural products like citrus fruits and cotton were the main commodities shipped through the port positioning it as the leading cotton port in the nation. Today, the Port of Brownsville is the leading maritime port for the movement of steel into Mexico. As the port continues to expand and modernize its infrastructure for diverse industries, the steel and energy sectors have grown exponentially as NextDecade’s Rio Grande LNG facility currently in construction is set to fulfill growing energy demands.

Through collaborative partnerships and workforce development initiatives, the Port of Brownsville is recognized for its role as a leading maritime hub providing significant benefits to the local and state economy. The port supports over 51,000 jobs in Texas and adds $3 billion to the state’s economy. Today, it ranks among the top shipbuilders for the Jones Act market and a prominent global ship recycling center, laying a robust groundwork for high-paying industrial jobs.

The port’s historic Brazos Island Harbor Channel Improvement Project to deepen the channel from its current 42 feet to 52 feet is among the latest infrastructure improvements to give the port a competitive advantage in the global market. Additionally, in the works is the port’s 118-acre business park, designed to leverage the port’s logistical advantages to support manufacturing companies and industry clusters. This development will provide a dynamic ecosystem for companies to collaborate, innovate, and flourish.

PRESERVING OUR ENVIRONMENTAL LEGACY

Safeguarding the local environment and natural resources is an essential key to the Port of Brownsville's mission to provide sustainable economic development throughout the region.

Located along the Gulf Coast of Mexico, the Port of Brownsville provides unparalleled global connectivity for industries and regional communities. While it stands as a key player in trade and commerce, the port is equally committed to sustainability and marine conservation, demonstrated through its various environmental stewardship partnerships.

The Port of Brownsville is an ardent supporter of conservation efforts and has partnered with public and private organizations to safeguard the region's natural resources.

These efforts include the Bahia Grande Restoration Project, the Endangered Cat Corridor Project, the Peregrine Fund Project for the Protection of the Aplomado Falcon, as well as other perpetual conservation easements granted in connection with port and third-party projects.

In 2023, the Brownsville Navigation District (BND) Board of Commissioners unanimously voted to pass a resolution to protect environmentally sensitive areas located within the port's 40,000 acres. The resolution featured an agreement between the BND and NextDecade in which the company agreed to acquire 1,500 acres of Las Lomas at the port to be preserved in a perpetual conservation easement in accordance with the mitigation plan to build the Rio Grande LNG export terminal at the port.

The Port of Brownsville is a crucial collaborator in the Friends of the RGV Reef project, supporting the development of Texas' largest artificial reef sustaining marine biodiversity and recreational fishing opportunities. Extending over 1,650 acres and positioned 12 miles north of the South Padre Island jetties within state territorial waters, the reef is comprised of donated materials such as concrete rail ties and retired vessels. The project not only fosters biodiversity but also stimulates the local economy by drawing divers, anglers, and ecotourists.

SKILLS TO SUCCEED

At the core of the Port of Brownsville's mission to lead in business development through state-of-the-art infrastructure and economic opportunities is its skilled workforce.

Activity at the port is responsible for more than 51,000 jobs in Texas, generating over $3 billion in annual state economic activity, according to recent analysis. With over 10,000 regional workers directly employed by activities at the port, it infuses $2.6 billion annually into the Rio Grande Valley.

The port recognizes the importance of building human capital to sustain existing industries and attract new ones, which is why it collaborates with tenants, local schools, colleges, universities, technical schools, and workforce development leaders to create career opportunities for local residents.

In April, Governor Greg Abbott joined Rio Grande Valley and Texas A&M University System leaders to break ground on a new 30,000-square-foot advanced manufacturing training facility at the Port of Brownsville. This South Texas Workforce Development Project, provided by the Texas A&M Engineering Extension Service (TEEX), addresses the need for a skilled manufacturing workforce in the RGV.

The facility's classrooms and labs will offer hands-on instruction in advanced machinery, automation, digital technologies, communication, safety, quality control, and leadership, enabling residents to train and establish careers locally.

Since its establishment in 2020, the Port of Brownsville Scholarship program has awarded $158,000 to high school students in the Brownsville Navigation District.

The skilled workforce across the Rio Grande Valley plays a crucial role in both supporting and attracting new and existing industries to the Port of Brownsville.

The Port of Brownsville Scholarship Program was established in 2020 to help deserving students pursue higher education and career dreams. ## RIGHT ON TRACK

The Brownsville Rio Grande International Railway (BRG) is a vital component of the Port of Brownsville's comprehensive logistical network enhancing the port's capabilities and economic impact.

Formed in 1984 by the Brownsville Navigation District, the BRG provides consistent, safe and reliable service to Port of Brownsville users, operating on more than 45 miles of rail within the port. Since 2014, OmniTRAX Inc., under agreement, has managed the BRG enhancing services for port rail users while aiming to attract new shippers in the manufacturing and distribution industries.

The shortline railroad provider facilitates access to three Class 1 railroads — Union Pacific, Burlington Northern Santa Fe and Canadian Pacific Kansas City for access into Mexico for the Port of Brownsville and its customers.

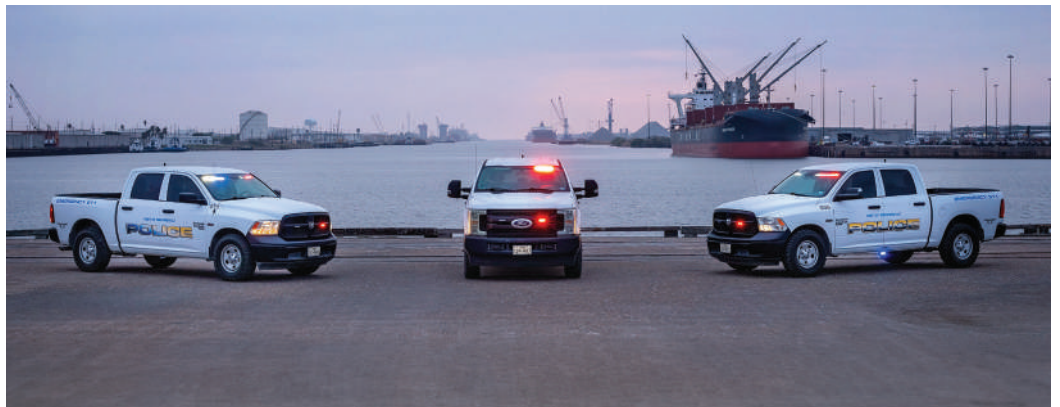

Railcar movements at the port have consistently grown. In 2023, the number of annual carloads broke yet another record with 85,210 railcar movements, a 17% increase over the previous year's 72,616 railcar movements.

The Port of Brownsville caters to a diverse and expanding array of industries across North America, ensuring the efficient transport of steel, wind energy components, refined petroleum products, aggregates, agricultural products, and other commodities.

ON THE WATCH: PORT OF BROWNSVILLE POLICE AND SECURITY DEPARTMENT VITAL TO OPERATIONS

The Port of Brownsville Police and Security Department is committed to ensuring safety while protecting life and property across the port's 40,000 acres and 17-mile-long ship channel.

Officers oversee vital operations with 24/7 surveillance by land and water. In addition to patrolling the ship channel, port police and security personnel check the identification of everyone at the port's entrances.

Continuous training and infrastructure investment are key to their success. The department participates in the annual Area Maritime Security Training and Exercise Program (AMSTEP) alongside over 20 agencies, enhancing response capabilities for security incidents. Collaborating with federal, state, and local authorities, the department maintains a secure environment, vital for the smooth operation of the port.

SAVOR THE GULF COAST: EXPLORING THE PORT OF BROWNSVILLE'S FISHING HARBOR

Nestled along the Brownsville Ship Channel, the Port of Brownsville's Fishing Harbor is a bustling hub for commercial fishing vessels, including shrimp boats, trawlers, and longliners. This harbor offers prime access to the rich fishing grounds of the Gulf of Mexico and the Brazos Santiago Pass, renowned for its plentiful catches.

Strategically located about five miles east of the Turning Basin, the fishing harbor boasts three basins, each 14 feet deep, with nearly 9,000 linear feet of docks. This infrastructure supports the port's robust fishing activities and ensures smooth operations for local fishermen.

Texas fishermen cast their nets year-round, with the peak season kicking off each July. The season opens with the traditional Blessing of the Fleet, a cherished event where fishermen and their families gather to pray for a prosperous harvest and the safety of all shrimpers as they embark on their journeys.

HOSPITABLE HARBOR

As the Port of Brownsville's global reach continues to bring vessels from around the world, the International Seafarer Center at the port provides mariners comfort and respite along their voyage.

Since 1974, the center has been providing spiritual and physical support to the dedicated crews of the maritime industry.

Chaplain Andreas Lewis joined the center in 2009 and has welcomed guests of all faiths by boarding ships, including liquid, bulk, and break-bulk vessels, arriving at the port and providing crew members with SIM cards or helping them with shopping lists. With the center's assistance, seafarers can make trips to local stores to purchase supplies such as groceries, equipment, and other goods.

As the number of ships calling at the Port of Brownsville continues to grow, the International Seafarer Center attends to the growing demands of its visitors. Chaplain Lewis is available to those wishing to utilize the center's services by phone at 956-831-4321 or 956-371-6039, or by email at palbro05@gmail.com.
